

Congressman Arcuri discusses the need for strong oversight of the financial community before any tax